THE BADASS BEHND IT ALL

Author of bestseller Write Your Own Story – Three Keys to Rise & Thrive as a Badass Career Woman

With nearly three decades of experience, a $35M sales track record, a popular TEDx talk, a best-selling business book, and 15 years in the esteemed President's Club at FranklinCovey, you could say I've lived a little. I've also navigated divorce, co-parenting, raising a couple of amazing humans, including one with ADHD, and launching a business.

What I know to be true in all of it, there's always head trash, our uniqueness matters most, business is human, and striving and comparison are dream killers.

I'm most alive when I watch my clients come alive, join a community, and thrive. There's this "look" when they're thriving as their most authentic self. Their eyes sparkle, they stand taller and they laugh way more. It's badass. I'm here for it.

Business is *Human*TM

Control
Measure

Personal Emotional Social

The needs are both critical,
but they are very different.

We focus on meeting our human needs first, then boldly serve the business needs with great intention, focus, and ...boundaries; ready to be valuable, relevant & impactful.
